

At TAA we make every effort to ensure that our fee structure is entirely transparent, and that students know exactly what they will be charged for first, second, and third year tuition before they start, with no surprise increases. If you join our March 2021 intake then, the fees quoted here are the ones that you will be paying to study with us, providing excellent value when compared to similar courses providing degree or degree-level training.

Later groups may be slightly higher though, as we periodically need to factor in increases in the cost of living and inflation. In addition to this (no surprises again!) please note that there are some additional costs that are relevant to all groups. Minor, but worth mentioning:

- any course books you wish to buy (note that you will be provided with the majority of texts you will need as part of the course fees, so there will be little that you have to spend on books unless want to)
- clinical supplies for home practice (some are provided as a starter pack, but you will want your own after that)
- a white coat for working with patients
- travel, food and accommodation, where relevant

Full details are provided in the Student Handbook which will be sent out on acceptance of a place.

March 2021 fees and payment options
